DRAFT CLOSING REMARKS

Dear colleagues,

- Thank you everyone for your valuable contribution for today's workshop. I would like to give my sincere thanks to CAREC Institute, CWRD, EARD, RKSI and MOF for their strong support, also my appreciation to TVET experts from Georgia, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, Guangxi Economic and Trade Vocational Institute, for their very insightful sharing. Last but not least, thank you all – the consultant team and PRCM project team – for your hard work. This certainly has been a timely and productive final workshop.
- The workshop today is focusing on sharing TA research findings and knowledge products, exchanging features and experiences of TVET development, and exploring potential cooperation areas between PRC and other CAREC member countries in the future. We've carried out resourceful and comprehensive discussions on the topics of the agenda.
- TVET is of importance to the economic and social development of all CAREC countries. I hope this TA could be an entry point that more resources and accesses will be provided and shared among us, especially under the professional support of so many specialists and institutes here today. Even though the TA is going to close, there are a lot more we can do, for instance, carrying more TVET-related projects to the region, sharing or exchanging knowledge via various means, establishing better cooperation mechanism between countries, etc. I hope our workshop today will serve as a tool for the PRC and other CAREC member countries to strengthen the effectiveness of new ideas and practices in TVET in your own country.
- Thank you!
